3. As we have discussed, we are gathering information to help improve the design of the training of trainers' programme for healthcare workers about disability that you recently participated in. How has your view of participatory training changed since the training of trainers?

Participation in training of trainers

1. Can you describe 2-3 examples of activities in the training that were most helpful to you?
   Prompt: Kindly share with me why they were useful?

2. Could you describe the ways that you might offer support to health workers as they learn about disability?

   Prompt: How would you want to do it? What do you think will be easy? What do you think will be difficult?

3. What are some of the lessons that you have learned in the training of trainers about how to teach others about providing health services to people with disabilities?
   Prompt: Can you share with me an example of what you might do?

4. What kind of support do you feel you need to effectively train health workers on disability?
   Prompt: 1. What do you plan to do differently moving forward?

5. Can you think of any suggestions or feedback you would give to someone who is thinking of training health workers in disability?

6. If we were to deliver the training of trainers again, what could we do differently?

7. Is there anything else that you would like to say about the training of trainers that we have not covered?

Qualitative Interview guide for Health care worker trainers

Objective: To explore the intervention implementation, potential mechanisms for impact and consider strategies for scale-up

Thank you for accepting to take part in the interview. We are gathering data to better understand the training for health workers you gave.

Participant background information

1. Can you please tell me about yourself?
   Probe for age, marital status, education background, area of residence, roles and activities involved in at the facility/occupation for a person with disabilities. What does the term "disability" mean to you?
2. For health workers, please tell me about people with disabilities you serve at the facility.
   Probe for types of disabilities, frequency of treating people with disabilities.
3. How did you become involved in providing the training to other health workers? How did you prepare to give the training? [Probe: Did you receive any training on your role? Please tell me more).
4. Tell me about the training on inclusive health that you gave? Probe: What was the purpose of the training? How long was it and who attended? What went well and what did not go well? What did you like and dislike about the training?
5. Can you tell me activities/content you think training participants found the most helpful? Why? Anything that was not helpful?
6. Could you describe the ways that you might offer support to health workers as they learn about disability? Probe: How would you want to do it? What do you think will be easy? What do you think will be difficult?
7. What are some of the lessons that you have learned in the training of trainers about how to teach others about providing holistic consultations to people with disabilities? Probe: Can you share with me an example of what you might do?
8. What kind of support – for example, managerial, clinical, staffing. – do you feel health workers need to effectively do your work with people with disabilities? What is essential, what can they do without, what is nice to have?
